JULIAN A. FLOREZ

10374 Beach Crest Drive NE, Bainbridge Island, WA 98110 Website Link LinkedIn jflorez@umich.edu

EDUCATION

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI

Anticipated graduation 2023

Major: Industrial & Operations Engineering Minor: Complex Systems, GPA: 3.8

Emphasis: Sustainability & Energy Global Scholars Program Alumni

WORK EXPERIENCE

Santa Fe Institute, Santa Fe, NM Complexity Researcher

Summer 2021

One of eleven undergraduate students selected to be in the Undergraduate Complexity Research Program (formally REU). I am working with post-docs and faculty on a self-created complex systems research project analyzing environmental waste scaling properties while modeling circular economy interactions to deliver growth recommendations at a company perspective.

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI

2019-2021

Lab Researcher in the Asset Lab

Lab researcher II (2021-current)

 Researched, designed, and developed a multi-objective optimization model for the retirement of coal plants in the Mid-Atlantic region to inform future policy decisions.

Lab researcher I (2019-2020)

- Conducted research on renewable energy capacity values in a National Assessment of Wind and Solar Resources. Developed a power system model, ran simulations on Michigan's Supercomputing cluster, and synthesized results into a peer reviewed research paper over the summer of 2020. Presented work at multiple conferences to industry professionals and leading academics (ERS, MUSE, ISST).
- Resulted in paper published in a leading Renewable Energy journal.

Microsoft, Redmond, WA

Summer 2019

Software Intern

 Worked alongside software engineers, attorneys, and product managers within Microsoft's OXO Division. Designed, created, and implemented an extensible, developer friendly, and widely adopted open-source telemetry package.

SKILLS

Python, MATLAB, R, Tableau, TypeScript, AutoCAD, SolidWorks, Git, C++, and Java

ACHIEVEMENTS

LinkedIn Course Certification: Become a Supply Chain Manager, 2021 Michigan Journal of International Affairs: Staff Writer, (recent piece) 2021 University Honors & Dean's List, University of Michigan, 2019-present Boeing & Alumni Merit Scholarship, University of Michigan, 2019-present